

Abstract

We detail the intricate construction and some necessary background in order to prove Urysohn's Lemma, which completely characterizes normal topological spaces